Headline:
Bright start cloud and rain edging northeast.

Today:
A bright start with a few early showers but cloud increasing this morning bringing outbreaks of rain to western parts towards midday. The rain continues to edge northeast this afternoon, becoming persistent and heavy at times. Freshening southeasterly winds. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloudy this evening with occasionally heavy rain. The rain tends to become lighter and patchier overnight with drier conditions reaching Kintyre, Arran and Ayrshire towards the end of the night. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Monday:
Rather cloudy with outbreaks of rain, although some brighter, perhaps sunnier spells are expected across Ayrshire, Lanarkshire and Kintyre. Mainly light southwesterly winds. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Sunny spells and a few showers Tuesday and Wednesday with a northerly breeze slowly easing. Dry Thursday with some good spells of sunshine. Feeling a little warmer than of late.
